IMPORTANT: Job postings cannot be edited once posted. To request an edit to your live job posting, please contact Wiley directly.
Confidential Job Postings
1. Job postings can be anonymized to keep employer information private. Postings are created in the same manner as steps 1–7 in the Post a Job section of this Manual, except text must be entered in the Alternate employer name field. This text will appear in place of the employer’s name.

A. Example of confidential post below.
Screening Questions

1. Screening questions can be used to filter your applicant pool. They can be added when creating the job posting (see step 5 in the Post a Job section). Click Save changes when finished entering questions.
2. The screening questions will appear on the job posting in the application. The applicant will be required to provide a response.
3. When applications have come through, you can drill into them from the Your Jobs section of the Career Center (see steps 1-2 of Manage Job Postings for how to accessing applications for a job posting, which is the screenshot shown below). From the list of applications, click Screening questions to see how each applicant answered.
